Giganews' One-time Notice of Copyright Infringement Email

Here is a sample of what subscribers caught infringing copyrights receive the first time we receive a valid DMCA Notice. The second infringement Notice results in the subscriber's account being terminated and the subscriber blocked from signing up with Giganews' service again.

From: Giganews DMCA Team <dmca2008@giganews.com>
 To: Jake Subscriber <jsub@hisdomain.com>
 Subject: One-time Notice of Copyright Infringement

This is your one-time Notice of copyright Infringement.

Giganews has received Notice from a copyright owner, or its Agent, that you, or someone using your account, have posted copies of unauthorized copyrighted material. Stop immediately.

Please review our Terms and Conditions, which you agreed to at the time you signed up for service with Giganews (<http://www.giganews.com/info/terms.html>).

Posting copyrighted material to Giganews' servers without the permission of the copyright holder, violates our Terms of Service, and subjects your account to immediate cancellation and forfeiture of any pre-paid money remaining on your account.

You will not receive any further notice should you, or anyone using your account, again post copyrighted materials without permission of the copyright holder. Your account will be canceled the moment we get notice that additional materials have been posted.

This is your only and last warning. Stop posting copyrighted materials to Giganews' servers or your account will be canceled without further notice.

We have suspended the posting privileges on your account. We will consider reactivating posting privileges only after you reaffirm, in a clear, unqualified, and unambiguous manner, your future compliance with the Terms of Service for Giganews service, and that no further unauthorized and/or infringing copyrighted material will be posted to our servers through your account.

We must receive a reply of compliance within 3 days from the date of this email or we may further consider your Giganews account for a permanent posting restriction, or account termination at our discretion.

Sincerely,
 Giganews DMCA Team

What People are Saying

The mimo browser is one of the reason I like giganews over the others. Easy to use. Easy to search and fast at downloading.
